

MTV has opened up their interview with Chris Evans to fan's questions on Twitter. Now of course we got the usual rubbish about what type of eggs he prefers and who his celebrity crush is (It's Salma Hayek:) but shockingly enough, one fan actually asked Captain America a super hero related question!! Asked who he thinks would win in a scrap between Iron Man and Cap, Evans surprisingly said.. "Unfortunately, probably Iron Man," he confessed. "I've got to be honest. I'm being real." Well, good on ya Chris. Because yes, hand to hand with Tony Stark suited and booted I wouldn't hold out much hope for Cap. Of course both men armor less and weaponless would be a different story. Evans also revealed that his favorite superhero growing up was Spider-Man. Oh, and that he sings in the shower. You heard it here second folks! By TwitterButtons.com
