

"Hey, pay attention to me! I'm fascinating." --ZATANNA Zatara With Smallville ending, it is time to look back at the heroes they helped brought to life, and take a look at their comicbook roots. --> Who is ZATANNA? The daughter of a powerful golden age magician John Zatara. She is a homo magi, a sub-race of magic-using humans, ZATANNA followed her father's footsteps in using the magical arts. She cast her spells by saying or writing the words backwards. ZATANNA Zatara is a fictional character in the DC Comics universe. Created by writer Gardner Fox and artist Murphy Anderson, ZATANNA first appeared in Hawkman vol. 1 #4 first appearance. In her first appearance ZATANNA is dressed in a traditional magician's outfit complete with a top hat, yellow cummerbund, coattails, and fishnets. This is the default costume of the character. ZATANNA hides her magical abilities in plain sight by masquerading as a stage magician.

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/pollmaster/news/?a=37190&t=ZATANNA_The_Mistress_of_Magic