

Sony Pictures continue to hold back from revealing any official Lizard images (outside of restricted SDCC footage and toy products) but they continue updating their official website for The Amazing Spider-Man with new looks at their other characters. Check out some of the new banners and go to the official website for more information...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/amazing-spiderman-updates_article_132104.html