

A few months after producers revealed at SDCC they were planning to bring Langley High onto the silver screen, Atlas Entertainment has announced that it will develop the upcoming graphic novel for the big screen with Tomm Coker and Daniel Freedman (Undying Love) attached to provide the screenplay. Written by JC Spink and Christopher Cosmos, the story centers on a student from Langley High...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/atlas-takes-langley-high_article_131135.html