

Given Michael Bay's past comments about wanting to take a break from high-profile blockbusters, we knew it wouldn't be long before the director sounded off on the Transformers rumors swirling across the web this week. It all started when Hasbro CEO Brian Goldner told investors on a conference call that their company has entered negotiations with Paramount Pictures...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/bay-rejects-transformers-rumor_article_131365.html