

Who needs state of the art CG-created sinister aliens when you can put a guy in a fishbowl looking outfit and hand him a plastic ray gun? It seems that genre fans checking out next year's Men in Black III in theaters will have a chance to see aliens from those classic cheesy sci-fi films of the '50s and '60s. The boys over at

Read more: http://www.mania.com/mib-iii-features-classic-aliens_article_131170.html