

It's nice to get out once in awhile. Breathe in some fresh air, take the car for a spin. We've been trapped inside walled towns and broken minds for most of the season, so a reminder of what it's like "on the road" can give our characters some perspective, fortunately or unfortunately for Rick...

Read more: http://www.mania.com/walking-dead-clear-review_article_136985.html